Ronald Wintrobe is Professor of Economics at the University of Western Ontario. He specializes in the political economy of dictatorships and democracies. He is also interested in the economics of political and social interactions.

In this lecture, Professor Wintrobe will apply his theoretical model on the political economy of dictatorships to power-sharing arrangements.

The Andrew W. Mellon Sawyer Seminar on Power-Sharing in Deeply Divided Places explores power-sharing and evaluates its role in as a standard prescription for protracted conflicts in deeply divided territories, especially when there are antagonistic self-determination claims.
